SEARCH SCREEN

In the SEARCH screen, the user may type the requirements of the record in the respective fields. The user may type in one field or in more than one field.

For example, by selecting CATEGORY as publication and entering the TITLE as vocational and clicking on the SEARCH button, the system will search for all the records that meet the criteria: CATEGORY=publication and TITLE = vocational.

If user selects CATEGORY as publication enters TITLE as vocational and YEAR as 2003, now the system will search for all the records that meet the criteria : CATEGORY=publication and TITLE= vocational and YEAR= 2003.

SEARCH RESULTS SCREEN

In this page, all the records are displayed, seven records at a time, based on the values entered by the users in the previous page.

If more than seven records are retrieved for the query, then the records are displayed on other screens, and can be viewed by clicking on the screen number. For example, if the query gets 25 results, the results will be displayed, seven in the first three screens and four in the fourth screen. In the above example, we are viewing the seven records in the second page.

One can see the details of the record by clicking on the title of the book
